

return anywhere

With Lakeland Library Cooperative's Return Anywhere service you can check books out from one library system and return them at another.*

The details...

- Items may appear on your account for a few days after return. They may need to travel to a central location before they get checked-in fine free.
- If you check out materials from Grand Rapids Public Library, please return them to a GRPL location only.
- For more information, talk with a staff member at your home library.

*GRPL is not participating in the Return Anywhere program at this time, but they will be happy to reexamine it in the future after the completion of their strategic plan.

return anywhere

With Lakeland Library Cooperative's Return Anywhere service you can check books out from one library system and return them at another.*

The details...

- Items may appear on your account for a few days after return. They may need to travel to a central location before they get checked-in fine free.
- If you check out materials from Grand Rapids Public Library, please return them to a GRPL location only.
- For more information, talk with a staff member at your home library.

*GRPL is not participating in the Return Anywhere program at this time, but they will be happy to reexamine it in the future after the completion of their strategic plan.

return anywhere

With Lakeland Library Cooperative's Return Anywhere service you can check books out from one library system and return them at another.*

The details...

- Items may appear on your account for a few days after return. They may need to travel to a central location before they get checked-in fine free.
- If you check out materials from Grand Rapids Public Library, please return them to a GRPL location only.
- For more information, talk with a staff member at your home library.

*GRPL is not participating in the Return Anywhere program at this time, but they will be happy to reexamine it in the future after the completion of their strategic plan.

return anywhere

With Lakeland Library Cooperative's Return Anywhere service you can check books out from one library system and return them at another.*

The details...

- Items may appear on your account for a few days after return. They may need to travel to a central location before they get checked-in fine free.
- If you check out materials from Grand Rapids Public Library, please return them to a GRPL location only.
- For more information, talk with a staff member at your home library.

*GRPL is not participating in the Return Anywhere program at this time, but they will be happy to reexamine it in the future after the completion of their strategic plan.