Hello and Welcomes to new staff at libraries and Lakeland

Unique Management Presentation - Teri Lynn Bullock

- Lakeland has been with Unique since 1999
- Unique provides material recovery services, regular notices, SMS notices, live chat services for websites, live talk phone center, temporary or long term
- Service over 1900 libraries throughout US, Canada, New Zealand, Australia
- 68 days overdue, then goes to Unique
 - Will start getting acknowledgement emails from Unique which allows 24 hours to remove any account to prevent them from going the process, also avoids invoicing from Unique
- Unique does not get title information for patron privacy
- $9.85 service fee from Unique
- Runs accounts through the national change of address database with the USPS initially and again 90 days in to the process
- Around the 7th of each month should get email that reports are ready
 - Change of address report available
 - Bankruptcy scrub report
 - Patrons are not contact by Unique while they are in bankruptcy
 - Libraries are not charged for patrons in bankruptcy because Unique cannot process those patrons
 - Libraries will need to manually remove the collections fee from those patron's accounts
- First letter/email from Unique is a 'safe harbor' letter
 - Required letter, provides an opportunity to dispute the account
 - Unique notifies libraries of the dispute
 - Libraries must respond within 30 days with two screenshots showing the patron information edit page and the items in question
 - If libraries do not respond within 30 days, the patron wins the dispute and

Unique must close their account

- Patron allows the sharing of their account information when they send in the dispute
- Unique does not call on Sundays, only between 9 and 9 on weekdays and 9 and 3 on Saturdays
- Unique directs all calls to the library in question
- If a patron returns their missing items but doesn't pay off the collection fee, they will get one last letter/email reminding them of that balance
- Unique does not get notified if we update a patron's information in Sierra, your person with access to the Unique system needs to log in and update the system
 - Can also update for preferred names
- Libraries can suspend accounts in Unique if working with the patron on a payment plan for a specified period of time that has been explained to the patron
 - Unique will pause their timeline of contacts for the period of the suspension
- Libraries can access paid in full letters from Unique if patrons request it
- A patron must have at least one item at billing (63 days overdue) and owe over $80 to qualify for collections
- Juvenile account letters/emails/phone calls go to their parent/guardian
- As a reminder, anything that goes to Unique from the library cannot be credit reported as of 2016
 - Unique has found that this hasn't impacted libraries very much
 - Unique recommend being the good guy if people ask and be very clear that Unique does not credit report on behalf of the library
- If you know an address is bad before it goes to Unique, change the zip code to 99999, but leave the rest there, this will jumpstart the skip trace process
- All reports go to the patron's home library, not to the library that owns the materials
 - Only exceptions are KDL or GRPL situations
- Email Teri Lynn any questions or issues at tbullock@uniquelibrary.com

Sierra upgrade to v5.4 update

- Batch update of hold pickup dates for emergency closures
 - Similar to advancing due dates on checked out materials
 - Please notify Sheryl via the emergency closure form if you need her to do this
 - <https://llcoop.org/library-closure-form/>
- INN-Reach Reports – Borrowed Report now requires password

Items

- Damaged items reminders
 - Procedure: do not check the item in, put a green slip in the book, include a note about what the damage is

- We do this so we have access to the previous patron's info
- These are a priority issue so that we can get it off patron's records before getting to the billing stage
- As a side note, if you damage note your items, please be specific as to the damage so other libraries know what they are looking for and can notice new damage
- If you have automated check in, do not check the book back out as that will not bring back the previous patron's info
- What are local policies regarding exchange/return policies for damaged items?
 - Hackley allows replacing in some situations
 - Some libraries require same (hardcover/paperback) for exchange
 - Leighton will work with patrons
 - Herrick prefers the patron call us to work out the best deal for the patron
 - Howard Miller works with patrons and accepts replacements on a case-by-case basis
 - Many libraries choose to include their actual purchase price on item records to help them work with patrons
 - Some libraries put their actual cost as the price in the record
- Renewing items beyond the usual 2/extending due dates on other libraries materials
 - Please respect your fellow libraries and do not override the system and renew items belonging to other libraries
 - This seems to mostly be happening for staff members' personal benefits. This is not okay. Lakeland will crackdown on this if necessary.
- Who has a second step on checked in items to verify that the items have been checked in?
 - Many libraries do double check in
 - Herrick has a magic wand that checks RFID
 - Some libraries barcode check in first and RFID second
 - This is in response to check in not seeming to fully work
 - Sierra can beep if you have speakers on your computer, in addition to the scanner beep
 - Similar to the self-check sounds
 - Sheryl can turn this on for you
 - Lakeland will look into the possibility of group purchasing tools to help with this issue
- Return anywhere
 - Patrons can return any Lakeland item to and Lakeland library – this includes GRPL and KDL items

- If the KDL and GRPL items come through MeL, they need to go back through MeL
- This also means that patrons can return MeL items to any library as well and those libraries should just check them in and send them back to the owning library
- Best practice is if you are unsure, try to check the item in – most often, it will check in
- Reminder, you can add GRPL and KDL cards to Sierra for patrons to be able to use them in Sierra – ask Sheryl for codes if needed (64, 94) consult registration guidelines here: https://llcoop.org/wp-content/uploads/2021/08/ils_patron_registration_2020-01.pdf

- Still keep the email in the z field
- Update on email due slips
 - Sent from Sierra, technically works, but works oddly, still reviewing
 - Sheryl can, by login, default to no print slip – open a ticket with tech-help@llcoop.org for this
- Barcode replacement -- change barcode to note field (old barcodes needed for Overdrive account mergers)
 - Please be sure that when you replace a patron's barcode, add the new one in a new field and make the old barcode a note

- Capira --- expiration dates how to reset the app
 - The patron will need to reset the app by taping the two arrows going in a circle on the Welcome bar at the top of the main page – this will cause the app to require them to sign in again.

- Sheryl will get libraries patron counts for Capira usage
- How many libraries have Acorn TV subscriptions for patrons?
 - No one currently
 - Spring Lake and Herrick looking into it
- Digitizing paper library card application forms - anyone doing this?
 - Hackley is waiting for Patron Point, looking at digital signatures
 - Herrick scans all registrations in to digital storage and disposes of paper forms
 - Lakeland will look deeper into options and collate information
- Does anyone still check the KDL/GRPL patron API?
 - A few does, the link is on the Lakeland website now
 - <https://lcoop.org/ils-information/>
 - Username: llc
 - Password: 34times
 - This link allows you to check and see if a patron is active in the KDL or GRPL system, also allows you to check if they have fines in those systems

MelCat/RIDES

- Same server requests

- If you have a MeL request for Lakeland pickup, Sierra automatically converts it into a Lakeland hold after you use the INN Reach Check Out to Remote Site – Check out in INNReach checkout and send it on as a Lakeland hold
- Please do not perform the rest of MeL procedures for a converted hold, no need for a sticker, no need to send through MeL/RIDES
- Re-request of MeLCat materials
 - If a patron asks about materials that say re-requested, best practice is to cancel and replace the request
- Summer 2022 suspensions began May 20, 2022
 - Many are schools
 - If you have materials that need to go back to a suspended library, you must hold onto those materials until the library reopens in September
- MeL clearing transactions prior to January 1, 2021 on July 1, 2022
 - Make sure anything on a too long or overdue report is taken care of before July 1

 - New account submissions from $40 to $80
 - Account information being sent to Unique via secure drop instead of email
 - Collection fee up from $8.95 to $9.85

- Training materials available at support.iii.com from Sierra
 - Lakeland will look in ongoing training after Patron Point
