The screenshot shows a Blu-ray Disc item page for "American Fiction". On the left is the Blu-ray cover featuring Cord Jefferson. To the right of the cover, the title "American Fiction" is displayed with a 4.5-star rating. Below the title, it says "Blu-ray Disc - 2024" and "Winner, People's Choice Award, 2023". The nominee "Cord Jefferson" is listed. A green button labeled "Place hold" is at the bottom right. A dropdown menu is open, showing "For Later" selected, with options for "Completed" and "In Progress". A link "Available in some locations" is also visible.

When you're searching for items and come across an item you're interested in but not ready to put a hold on yet, you can click the button with a banner that says "For Later." This adds it to your For Later shelf, which acts as a wishlist of sorts.

You can find your For Later Shelf by going to your Library Dashboard and selecting it from the menu on the left, or by clicking on your username in the upper right of the screen, and selecting it from there.

All of the items you save for later will be there, with a button that allows you to filter out what is currently available, making it easy to find your next read.

The screenshot shows the "My Shelves" page with the "For Later" shelf selected. The page has a dark blue header with navigation options: "My Shelves", "Completed (12)", "In Progress (3)", and "For Later (11)". Below the header are buttons for "+ Add a title" and "Find available titles". The main content area shows a list of items. The first item is "The Anxious Generation" by Jonathan Haidt, a 2024 book. The second item is "The Creative Act" by Rick Rubin, a 2023 book. Each item card includes a cover image, title, author, year, availability status, and a "Place hold" button. A "Filter your results by..." section is visible on the left side of the main content area.
